

JOHNSON PAUL, CPA, CGA

Chief Financial Officer

As Lord's Chief Financial Officer (CFO) Johnson Paul has overall responsibility for all aspects of financial and risk management for Lord International Inc. including financial reporting, analysis, budget, tax, and other aspects of financial operations. In this role, Johnson leads and oversees the accounting departments for our offices around the world. As member of Lord Cultural Resources' Board and Management Committee, Johnson contributes to the company's strategic direction process and internal governance framework. From 2013 through 2016, Johnson also held the position of Gérant (General Manager) at Lord culture, our operations in Paris, France.

Johnson joined Lord Cultural Resources in 2007 as Controller/Comptroller. Prior to joining the company, Johnson spent 10 years as Director of Finance and IT at Campbell Michener & Lee, a privately held marketing communications company in Toronto.

Johnson holds an MBA from the University of the Punjab and has earned the Canadian Chartered Professional Accountant (CPA, CGA) designation in 2001. Johnson speaks English, Hindi and Urdu languages.