

DANIELA AGUILAR

Business Development Coordinator and US Operations Assistant

As Business Development Coordinator, Daniela has a key role in the development of new business, the coordination of bids, and the writing of qualifications and procurement. She works in all related activities intended to create and grow new opportunities for Lord Cultural Resources internationally.

As US Operations Assistant, Daniela works closely with the IT, HR, communication, and accounting teams to bring administrative and organizational support to the New York Office.

Daniela is currently enrolled in the Executive Master's program studying Human Resource Management at Baruch College (Degree expected May 2023). She earned her Bachelor of Psychology and Graduate degree in Psychology and Organizational Development from the Pontificia Universidad Javeriana Cali, Colombia.

Before joining Lord Cultural Resources, Daniela worked in Human Resources in Colombia. She has over six years of HR experience specifically in the field of healthcare. She brings to Lord her skills in organization and human resources while deployed on a multitude of projects.

She is fluent in Spanish.